Re: U10-U16 A/AA/AAA Spring Tryouts – Player Registration

Good afternoon,

With HEO being approved to hold tryouts for the U10-U16 A/AA/AAA levels for the 25-26 season in 2025 Spring, some questions have emerged regarding player registration – specifically whether players should be registering with their home association first and then being transferred to their competitive association, or if they can register directly with their competitive association.

Players who have participated in Spring tryouts and made a competitive team for the 25-26 season are not required to register with their home association first – instead they can register directly to their respective competitive associations, so long as their primary address remains the same.

New players to HEO, players that have changed addresses, or players that either did not participate in Spring Tryouts or make a competitive team in the spring but are joining a competitive team in fall 2025, will still be required to register with their home association first and then transferred to their competitive.

For registrars, in HCR these player's primary associations will remain as their respective "home association" would originally have been, and their shared association will remain as their respective competitive association. Financially, HEO will bill the AAA/AA associations for their participant fees based on their team rosters.
